Application to defer benefits under Art. 13*b* OPA

If you continue your employment relationship beyond the reference age you can, if you wish, defer the point at which you start drawing your retirement benefits. In order to do this, you must have been working for your existing employer (which must be affiliated to PUBLICA) without interruption, and your annual salary must be above the entry threshold stipulated in the regulations.

If you opt to defer your benefits, your retirement assets will remain with PUBLICA without further contribution payments being made. You will draw your retirement benefits at a later time, and your retirement assets will earn interest until then. By deferring your benefits, you will enjoy a higher conversion rate and correspondingly higher retirement assets.
